Registration / Login / Profile: Login Process

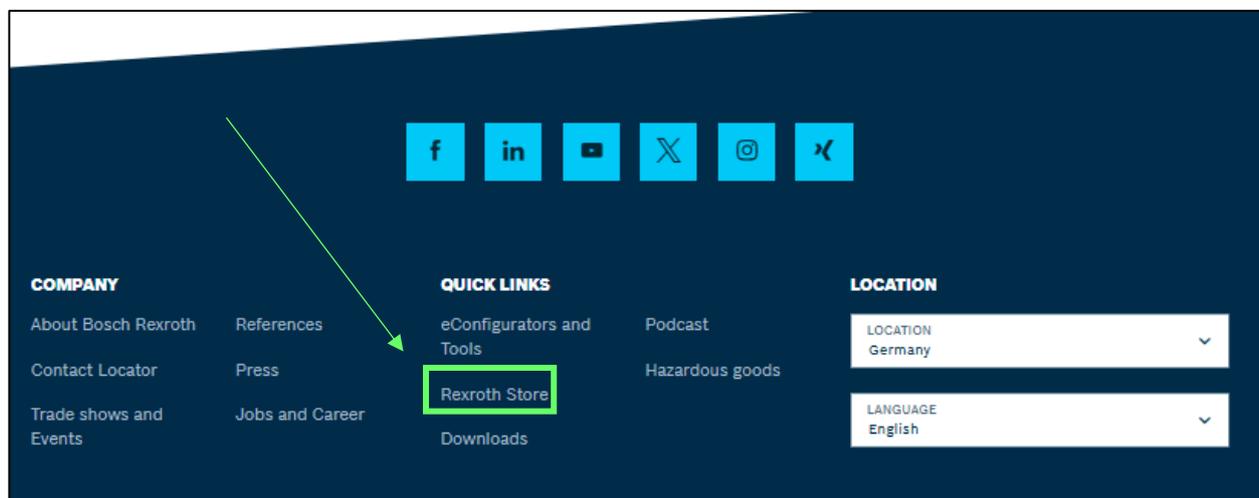

1 Introduction to the Sign-Up Process

Only when you are logged into the Rexroth Store, all functions according to your access type are available to you. Therefore, we always recommend being logged in when using the Store. This also ensures that only the products in the catalog that are actually available in your country are displayed.

1.1 Accessing the Login Button

1.1.1 Access from the Store

Registration can be initiated from within the store. To verify that the Store is accessed, check the browser's address bar, which must begin with store.boschrexroth. Access can also be gained, for example, via the Quick Link to the Rexroth Store at the bottom of each page. This allows access to the Rexroth Store without prior registration.

Clicking "Login" on any webpage will redirect the user to the login and registration page. The user will also be redirected if "Login" is selected in the shopping cart or when initiating a quote request without being logged in.

Alternatively, the following link can be used or saved in the user's browser:

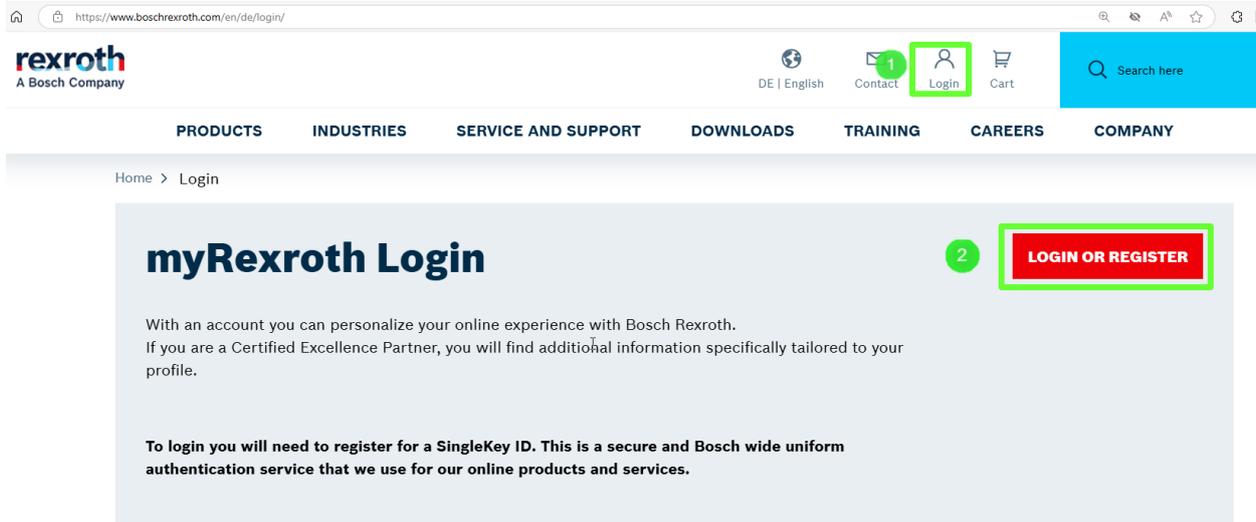

Norway: <https://store.boschrexroth.com/nb/no>

1.1.2 Access via any Bosch Rexroth Website

Even when outside the Store, login is possible via the "Login" button. Subsequently, selecting "LOGIN OR REGISTER" redirects the user to the login page, identical to the page accessed when initiating login from within the Store. However, new registrations cannot be started from this page; the Store must be accessed to initiate a new registration.

1.2 Implementing the Registration Process

Prior registration is required for successful login. Login is only possible after registration is complete.

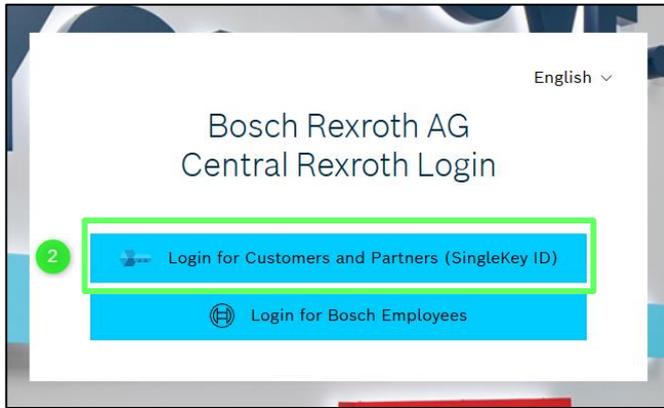

After selecting the Login button, the user is directed to the following button "LOGIN | REGISTER WITH SINGLEKEY ID" to log in.

On the following page, select "Login for customers and partners (SingleKey ID)" and then log in using the Bosch SingleKey ID. The same page also provides options to request a new password or initiate registration.

Registration / Login / Profile: Login Process

After clicking "CONTINUE" the user is logged in and goes to the Bosch Rexroth Store homepage.

1.3 Identifying Login Status by the Logo

Successful login is indicated by a red dot and the "myRexroth" designation on the symbol.
