Häggglunds hydraulic drives take the spotlight with a bold new look

The advantages of Häggglunds hydraulic drive systems will soon be reflected in a striking redesign, making the Häggglunds brand more visible within Bosch Rexroth. While the redesign connects the present with a distinguished history, its focus is on the future — and creating improved clarity for customers.

A brand designed to lead the way

The refreshed and revitalized brand gives customers an inside look at the new face of Häggglunds.

“Our drives are in constant development, and the new look is also an advance,” says Wolfram Ulrich, Vice President of Sales for Häggglunds products and solutions. “Customers will find familiar elements in the new design, such as the distinct red color of Häggglunds motors. But the Häggglunds logotype, for example, has become more streamlined and dynamic.”

Added to the logotype is a new element derived from the Häggglunds motor cam ring, the lines of which echo throughout the visuals. Ulrich explains, “Inside and out, a Häggglunds solution works to keep customers moving forward. That sense of motion and innovation will be integral to our communications.”

The update is a matter of clarity as well as appearance. Häggglunds drive solutions are – and will remain – a part of the Rexroth offering. Yet the Häggglunds brand has unique longevity, much like the products themselves. The name Häggglunds has always been present on the hydraulic motors and has always had its place in customers' hearts and minds.

“Häggglunds solutions have undeniable strengths and a committed team behind them, which is why the brand continues to resonate with customers,” says Tobias Brummer, Head of Brand Management and Brand Communications at Bosch Rexroth. “Positioning the Häggglunds brand more clearly is a win-win, as it affirms those aspects while opening the door to all that Rexroth offers.”

“Häggglunds benefits from being a part of Rexroth,” agrees Ulrich. “The new design makes the brand stronger in its own right, but there’s power in Rexroth’s endorsement and surrounding expertise. Becoming more visible while staying connected to Rexroth is the best of both worlds, for Häggglunds and for customers.”
